"EDDIE! EDDIE BOY!—YA JUS SET A RECORD! WHERE ARE YA EDDIE!"

Forum to Discuss Progressive Jazz

A forum discussion on Progressive Jazz will be held in the Union lounge tomorrow, at 4:00 p. m. This discussion will be led by members of the College Progressive Jazz Band, and the participants will try to give answers to such questions as "What is Jazz? Where did it originate? What are some of the jazz masterpieces? How does Dixieland and Progressive Jazz differ? Who plays the top jazz in the country and how is jazz different from swing?"

The forum committee has arranged this discussion so that the general student body can be better informed as to what to expect when the Jazz Band produces its concert next Thursday, May 9.

A coffee hour will be combined with the discussion and it is open to the general student body.

Neva Ross Goes West For Childhood Conference

Miss Neva Ross, of the education department, Horace Mann, left Kansas City by plane April 17 for Los Angeles, California, where she attended the annual study conference of the Association for Childhood Education International.

Miss Ross led a group discussion on "Program Planning" and was reporter for several forum discussions.

For the past two years Miss Ross has served on the national editorial board of the organization's magazine, "Childhood Education."

The theme for this year's conference was "That All Children May Learn." Miss Ross returned to Maryville April 28.

Notice!

Women students who want campus employment next year or during the Summer Session should renew their Work Applications with Miss Simons immediately. This applies to women who now have jobs on the campus as well as to students seeking employment.

Young Explorer Returns From Antarctic Regions

By Edna Shell

Bill Goodwin, who is just back from the antarctic regions, visited the campus with his friend, Emmett Mason, April 14 and 15. Driving his new Triumph, an English sports car bought on the west coast, Bill made quite an impression on automobile fanciers—male and female. Although he returned to his home in Louisville, Monday afternoon, he pronounced himself favorably impressed with N.W.M.S., and we hope to have him back as a student next fall.

Bill and Emmett got acquainted when they served on the same aircraft carrier in the Pacific in 1955. When the call came for volunteers to go to the South Pole, more than 100 men on the ship offered their services; but Goodwin was the only one to be selected. Evidently many recognized that this was a last frontier, for although 11,000 applied for permission to go on the expedition, only 300 were selected, and of these only 167 "wintered over" in the polar area.

Visited Former Camps

It was in this same part of the world that Admiral Byrd had set up five bases in the past, three of which had floated out to sea as huge fields of ice broke away. Two other explorers had built bases at McMurdo, Scott in 1911 and Shackleton in 1925. Both of these camps were visited, and some cheese and jelly which were still edible were found in Scott's camp. The present McMurdo base is just up the hill from Shackleton's.

Fourteen men, Bill among them, were sent from McMurdo to build a permanent camp for the 22 or 23 persons who would spend this winter at the Pole itself. They left McMurdo by plane on Thanksgiving Day and stayed on this phase of the job till Christmas.

Some Formed Big I Club

Although the temperature is expected to drop to around 100 below zero during the antarctic winter (our summer), it warms up to near 40 at McMurdo during the period when the sun shines 24 hours of the day. It was during this time that some of the men had trouble sleeping, and formed the "Big I" club—I for insomnia. Bill reported that he had no trouble of this kind after working a twelve-hour shift.

The greatest change Mr. Goodwin noticed since he left the states was the deterioration in musical appreciation. He told of attending one of the Elvis Presley movies when the ship stopped at New Zealand. The teenagers there were amazed that such antics could capture American fancy, and more than half of them walked out before the movie was over.

Although his travels and experiences may appear more glamorous in later years, the young explorer conceded, at the present he understood the feelings of the woodcutter who couldn't see the forest for the trees.

Campus Briefs

Senior announcements are being printed and are expected to arrive about the second week of May. They can be picked up in the Business Office upon payment of graduation fees.

Oscar H. Kirschner, a senior from St. Joseph, will teach mathematics and science in Benton High School at St. Joseph. Oscar has a major in mathematics and a minor in science.

Robert Tinnell, a physics senior from Blanchard, Iowa, has received an assistantship in physics at the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. He will be working for a master's degree in the field of nuclear physics.

Aletha Mullins, Bill Mullins, Woodson Moore, Sharon Gabbert, and Shirley Heits were delegates to a regional conference of Kappa Delta Pi, National Honor Society in Education for junior and seniors, held at Illinois State Normal University, Bloomington, April 26.

Dr. J. Gordon Strong, chairman of the division of physical sciences, attended a meeting of the Kansas City section of the American Chemical Society at Halse Hall, Kansas City University, April 18.

Jennifer Oswald, who was chosen Queen of the Phi Sigma Epsilon Frolics, recently appeared on the Esther Donat television show, KFEQ, St. Joseph. Miss Oswald discussed with Miss Donat various aspects of college life on this campus.

Miss Lois Simons, Miss Olive DeLuce, and Miss Mary Keith told of their last summer's experiences in Europe at a meeting of the American Association of University Professors, Friday, April 26.

Austin Jay has accepted a teaching position in the high school science department at Richmond. He will teach chemistry and biology beginning the fall semester.

David Penwell, who received his B. S. degree from the College last spring, was one of 935 new officers to be graduated from the U. S. Navy's Officer Candidate School, March 1.

Mr. John Smay, chairman of the music department, will go to Lamoni, Iowa, Saturday, May 4, to judge in the Iowa State Music Contests.

Miss Barbara Julius, pianist, Kansas City, will be in senior recital, 8:15, May 13, in the main auditorium. Highlight of the evening's program will be "Coronation Concerto" by Mozart, played by Miss Julius with the orchestral accompaniment being played on the organ by Mr. Gerhard Krapf, of the music division.

The Maryville alumnae of Kappa Omicron Phi entertained the college chapter at the Dream Kitchen recently. Seven graduating seniors were honored with gifts. They were Betty Cooksey, Lona Lu Babb, Glenda Rice, Bette Cox, Fiona Nelson, Barbara Gromer, and Karen Arms.

Each year the mathematics department endeavors to add something new to the Parents' Day exhibit. This term two new projects were completed. A "trig tractor" illustrating the line value of trigonometric functions was made by Lowell Blank. Ted Ely contributed a project showing the probability curve.

Kappa Omicron Phi held a special formal initiation Monday evening. The new members are Colene Hughes, Maxine Hull, Peggy McHarg, Sandra Bill, Dorothy Evans, Mrs. Karen Arms, Ruth Carey, and Mrs. Aloise Wilkerson.

Mr. Gary Funkhouser, clarinetist, Maryville, and Mr. Jerry Troxell, saxophonist, Maryville, are giving their senior recital in Horace Mann auditorium, 8:15, May 6. This recital is in partial fulfillment of the requirements for their music degree.

Five new members pledged Beta chapter of Pi Omega Pi Monday, April 15. They were Beverly Crater, Joyce Lash, Kay Johnson, Don Moore, and Jack Crawford.

Russell Thompson, a 1956 graduate, is an assistant in the biochemistry department at the University of Illinois, Urbana. Russell reports great interest in his work as a graduate student.

Robert Smith, a 1956 graduate, was an Easter visitor in Maryville. Robert is a graduate assistant in the chemistry department at Iowa State college, Ames, Iowa.

Larry A. Jones, who completed his work last semester, is employed at the Cook Paint and Varnish Company, North Kansas City.

Thank You, Art Buckingham . . .

Two weeks ago at a Student Senate meeting a personality stepped down from the spotlight on the campus political scene. Not much publicity was given to his leaving of the highest student office on the campus. In a few years the name "Art Buckingham, President of the Student Body, Northwest Missouri State College, 1956-'57" will be forgotten, but it is quite unlikely that the long hours spent by Art for the betterment of the student body will be forgotten—nor will his personality, and what a personality Art has. He is one of the rare kind of individuals whom you like by just looking at.

Everyone is well aware of the many times that Art has appeared before the students and the general public during the year and of the fine job that he has done in this capacity. More important, though, than these public appearances, are the actions which we, as ordinary students do not see and often do not give credit for. Those long hours spent in those seemingly insignificant chores which make good campus government possible, presiding at Student Senate meetings, contacting class and organizational officers to inform them of their duties and obligations, acting as a liaison between the administration and the students, setting a pattern of behavior for the campus—all these and many others are the duty of the Student Body President, and Art has responded magnificently to his inheritance.

There is no monetary reward for these services and obligations, but the job does hold more than its share of abuses and chastisement for minor miscalculations.

Truly, Art Buckingham deserves a vote of thanks from the general student body for the fine job he has done this past year. In view of that fact, it is with pleasure that the Northwest Missourian salutes Art Buckingham, Past President of the Student Body, for a job well done.—Editor.

Home Ec Majors Give Discussion on Careers

Several home economics majors from the College presented a panel discussion on "Career Opportunities in Home Economics" at a Mother-Daughter Tea in Savannah Monday afternoon. The panel included Betty White, Carolyn Henn, Beverly Myers, Romona Hall, and Donna Anderson with Lovell Hunzinger as the panel leader.

The tea was given by the junior girls of all the high schools in Andrew County. Mrs. Ruby Larson, home economist of Andrew County, was in charge of the tea which was held in the Methodist Church.

Seven Dolphins Attend Central Swim Workshop

Seven members of the Sigma Phi Dolphin club traveled to Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg last Saturday to attend a Synchronized Swimming workshop. Those who made the trip were Nancy Kariger, Barbara Benning, Margie O'Connor, Karen Hawk, Vicki Prather, Peg Riley, and Donna Sue Jones. They were accompanied by Miss Joann Harris and Miss Bonnie Magill.

The workshop was sponsored by the Dolphin Club at CMSC. Miss Jessie Jutten, sponsor of the club, was formerly sponsor of the NWMSC campus organization.

Mrs. Burton Richey, a Kappa Omicron Phi alumna, will be the narrator; Fiona Nelson will be in charge of the wardrobes; and Mrs. Ruby DeGryse will help with the staging.

Following the fashion show, a model wedding reception will be held with wedding cakes baked by Mrs. John Schrier, Mrs. E. V. Agler, and Mrs. James Ray. Bearcats to Host MIAA Conference Meet

St. Joe to Be Site For Golf Tourney; Tennis Match Here

Maryville will be the site of the MIAA Conference tennis and golf meets to be held here May 10 and 11. There is, however, the possibility that the golf matches will be transferred to St. Joseph as the local links may not be available for play.

Tennis coach F. W. Grube will send a strong Bearcat team into the meet with a very good chance of winning. Charlie Adair, Dick Phillips, Bob Alcorn, and Larry Rowley will be entered in the singles play, and the doubles play will see Adair and Phillips team up to form one team while Alcorn and Rowley will form the second.

The Warrensburg Mules, who have lost their championship team of a year ago, will be attempting to regain top honors, but the 'Cats will be going all out to see that this doesn't happen.

According to the performances thus far this year, Springfield and Cape Girardeau will have to be reckoned with as both have stronger teams than they presented last year. Rolla, in the midst of a rebuilding program, and Kirksville are given only an outside chance as both have not proved to be particularly strong.

Who will represent the 'Cats on the links won't be determined until the first part of next week as the weekly ladder tournament will decide the squad coach Bob Gregory sends against the golfers of the MIAA. Larry Seymour, low man in the Graceland meet, and Gayland Sorenson, the lad who recorded the low score against Omaha, will, in all probability, head Gregory's foursome. The other two positions will be fought out between Dick Hargrave, Don Walker, Lowell Reeves, Charles Goff and William Carolus.

Bearcats to Tangle With Warrensburg In Final Home 'Tilt

The baseball squad of Neal Tremble will face the Mules of Warrensburg, here, this coming Friday in a doubleheader. The 'Cats will go into the twin-bill to make their last home stand a successful one.

Last Wednesday saw the 'Cats drop both ends of a doubleheader to William Jewell by 9-8 and 8-0 scores. The one run lost was a heartbreaking affair which saw William Jewell score eight unearned runs, and the second was just as bad. Even though the Bearcats were shut out, seven of Jewell's runs resulted from Bearcat carelessness affield.

Pitchers Ron Cain and Fred Fuhr thus far have been the team's most effective hurlers, but all have pitched creditably. It can't be said that the 'Cats pitching department has failed, because it hasn't. Most of the trouble has come from costly miscues on the part of the defense.

Russ Davenport, Jerry Kemery, and Fred Reeves have been holding up the hitting side of the Bearcat attack, but as the 'Cats have found out, it's hard to win ball games unless you can get the other side out before they score too many runs.

Intramurals Swing Into Final Round

The intramural program for 1956-57 moves into its final round. Left on the schedule are the track meet and the golf tournament.

Events for the track meet, which will be held on May 13, will consist partly of the 100 yard dash, 220 yard dash, 440 yard run, and 880 yard run. Field events consist of the broad jump, high jump, and shot. Several relays will be included.

Golf for intramurals will be conducted differently this season. On May 15 the four best golfers from each organization will meet at the local links at 4:00 to participate in nine holes of golf. The winner will be determined by the lowest team total of the four men.

MIAA Teams Come To Campus May 11 For Annual Event

Northwest Missouri State College will act as host for the 1957 MIAA Outdoor Conference track meet to be held a week from this coming Saturday, May 11. According to the schedule, the preliminaries will begin at 9 a.m. with the finals slated to start at 1:30 p.m. The field events will start at 1 p.m.

Cape Girardeau, winner of the MIAA Indoor Conference meet, Kirksville, and Warrensburg are, at the present time, considered the top threats to capture conference laurels. The Indians will bring an outstanding group of distance men to Maryville and will be out to prove that their walk-away of the indoor meet was no accident.

Kirksville, whose strength is vested in a fine array of sprint men, had runners up to Cape in the indoor meet and could, with a little luck, come out on top when the day ends.

The Mules of Warrensburg, with the best balanced team in the conference, will be in contention all the way and will press hard to improve on their fourth place finish in the indoor meet. The Mules, who were only one and one-half points shy of second place, are regarded by many as the team to beat.

Springfield, although not counted upon to make a particularly strong showing, can be expected to capture both hurdle events, the reason being simple, George Simpson. Simpson, who is the son of Chauncey Simpson, Missouri University faculty member, established new records in both the high and low hurdles in this year's MIAA Indoor Conference meet, and there is little doubt that the Springfield star will hit the tape first in both events.

The thinclads of Coach Ryland Milner, mainly because of the loss of Bob James, outstanding sprinter, and star 440 man, Wayne Jackson, are not given too much of a chance to finish in the money. It can be assured that Denzil Caldwell, the college's outstanding high jumper, will walk away with his favorite event, but outside of that, the 'Cats' hopes are not bright.

Rolla, even though having finished third in the indoor meet, will provide some competition, but at Random Shots . . .

By RICHARD FLEMING

The Bearcats' baseball squad got off to a good start by beating Central College in the first game of a doubleheader on April 16 by the score of 5-3, but after losing the second game 9-8, they have failed to get back on the winning path. They lost at Nebraska Wesleyan 3-2, Omaha University 5-1, and William Jewell 9-8 and 8-0. Fred Fuhr is the only pitcher who has won a game, a fine six hitter against Central. The pitching on the whole has not been as bad as the scores may indicate, but the fielding has been terrible with many costly errors being committed at untimely moments.

Denzil Caldwell continues to prove that he is one of the best small college high jumpers in the state and the surrounding area. He has yet to be beaten this year. His best jump of the season so far was the six foot four inch leap in the triangular meet with Peru and Tarkio. He holds the state record with a jump of 6-5 3/4.

The Bearcats' track team consisting of only Denzil Caldwell entered the Drake Relays in Des Moines, Iowa, on April 26 and 27. The Relays is one of the greatest sporting events in the country.

The tennis team has broken even so far this season by losing to Omaha U. 4-3 and beating Graceland 6-1. The team has a lot of balance and depth. In fact, it probably has as much depth as many university squads.

The college track has been very busy the last two weeks with the Bearcats hosting two track meets along with the Grand River Conference and Nodaway County high school meets.

this time can not be counted upon to make a strong showing.

As the conference meet is only held in Maryville once every six years, Bearcat track followers won't want to miss the opportunity to see the fine array of talent that will be performing on the local track. Although the Bearcats are not rated as the strongest team, you can bet that Milner's thinclads will be giving their all against the MIAA's finest.
